Viewing of Defiance with Holocaust Survivor: Gitla Doppelt

Please join us Wednesday, October 24 at 6:00 pm in Goldsmith Hall. A light meal will be served, followed by the movie and discussion.

RSVP required by October 22.

Gitla Doppelt grew up in Byten, Belarus, surviving first the Russian occupation and then the Nazi takeover and ghettoization, all before she was 14. Her family escaped to the woods and joined a band of partisan fighters. Gitla married Felix Doppelt while living in a displaced persons camp in Italy. They moved to Kansas City, Missouri, in 1950.

While watching the film Defiance, Gitla was moved to tears. "I was very happy to see, at last, a monument to my brother," Gitla said.

Reading Genesis as an Adult

The problem with most Jewish education is that it is wasted on the young. Of course, most of us would not be involved with our spiritual lives as adults if we didn't have powerful experiences as children. However, many of us drift from Jewish living because we only know it as children.

It would be impossible to work in finance with a seventh-grade level of math. It would be challenging to understand today's global politics with a seventh-grade understanding of social studies. Our enjoyment of literature would be severely limited if we never left the young adult section of the book store.

Similarly, if we only learn the Book of Genesis from the perspective of how we learned it as elementary children, we are limiting our own appreciation. On Simchat Torah, we began the reading of the Torah anew – and while the words are the same, we are different.

Here are the steps that I suggest for a new encounter with these ancient stories. (Though the links are not present in the print version of The Scroll, you can find any of these resources with some quick googling – or email me at dglickman@bethshalomkc.org).

- 1) Find a translation to read the weekly Torah portion. The Etz Hayim that we have in synagogue uses the JPS translation of the Tanakh (the Hebrew Bible). This is available for free on sefaria.org, or hard copy can be purchased from Amazon.com.

If you are looking for a contemporary translation that captures the essence of the Hebrew, look at Everett Fox's translation of The Five Books of Moses. Chabad produced a translation based on Rashi's called "Chumash: The Gutnick Edition."

- 2) Set aside a time each week to read it. For our over-scheduled lives, finding dedicated time to read the weekly Torah portion is often the hardest part. I suggest before work over a cup of coffee, before bedtime during the week, or setting a 15-20-minute daily meditation break for reading.
- 3) Find a "grown-up" commentary. Our Torah was not meant to be read just on its own, but through the lens of interpretation. That is not to say that you must accept every interpretation that you read. However, in the same way that it is possible to get much more out of an art museum when accompanied by an art historian – it is possible to get more out of the Torah when accompanied by a teacher. I like the commentaries on the website of the Hadar Institute. I love the writing also of Robert Alter and Aviva Gottlieb Zornberg.
- 4) Open your heart to be challenged. This is the other tough part – allowing the text to pierce your soul.

Reading the weekly Torah portion allows us to live within a different calendar. It allows us to see our own life events living in tandem with the lives of our patriarchs and matriarchs. It is not unusual to see parallels or conflicts. But regardless – it is to live with conversation.

Performing a Mitzvah

by HAZZAN TAHL BEN-YEHUDA
hazzantby@bethshalomkc.org

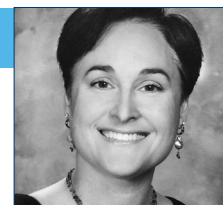

Did you see our synagogue's beautiful sukkah this year? Every class participated fully in the decoration of our sukkah. The youngest students made shiny pieces of starry sky, so we could see stars even when the sun is out. The entire school made a cornucopia brimming with fruits to celebrate the fall harvest, and everyone in the school was invited to add their wishes for the coming year on the banner. Students hung colorful paper chains, papier-mâché pomegranates, cards with new year wishes and beautiful 3-D butterflies to beautify our sukkah.

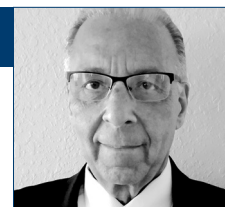

What is the point of all this decorating? Isn't it enough just to go into the sukkah and say the blessings, eat a meal and leave? Isn't it enough just to do a mitzvah?

When we do a mitzvah, it's good. But when we do a mitzvah in a beautiful way, that's hiddur mitzvah – beautifying a mitzvah – and that's something we strive for when we can.

Think about when you light Shabbat candles; the mitzvah is just to light candles. But how many of us just take two candles, plop them into some tin foil and light them? I would venture to guess that most of us have a set of beautiful candlesticks, whether we chose them ourselves or whether they were a gift to us from a loved one or our synagogue, or whether we light a set of candlesticks lovingly passed down from generation to generation – these candlesticks are a hiddur mitzvah, a beautiful layer that personalizes the mitzvah, that makes the mitzvah dearer to us.

One wish I have for the coming year for myself and for all of us – that we should each choose one mitzvah and go one step further with it. To make a hiddur mitzvah, to beautify it, and in so doing, to personalize it and make it closer to our hearts. May you have a beautiful year, and may you bring beauty into the world this year!

Life Lesson 13: "Being Alone Does Mean Being Lonely"

You can be alone without being lonely.
You can be lonely without being alone.

Many of us tend to think loneliness and being alone are synonyms. But there is a huge difference between them. Loneliness is a state of mind that resonates throughout our body. It is that feeling we get after losing a loved one or a friend. It is that feeling that makes us want to crawl into a hole and hide. It is that feeling of despair that we cannot shake when we sleep or when we wake because it consumes us. And that feeling is magnified when you feel lonely in a crowd of people. As it has been said, "Lonely is not being alone, it is the feeling that no one cares".

When you are alone, you have time to reflect on what is going on with your life. You have time to daydream; you have time to be with someone you are very close to, You. You are not lonely; you are content. It is that time when you can shut the world out and enjoy the quiet and solitude. As that famous author Anonymous said, "Sometimes, you need to be alone. Not to be lonely, but to enjoy your free time being yourself".

In the words of Mahatma Gandhi, "It's easy to stand with the crowd; it takes courage to stand alone".

Sometimes we stand alone defending a cause we truly believe in. It is always easier to be part of the crowd, but sometimes we must take a stand not supported by the crowd.

I sometimes find quotes and save them for articles or stories I may write months or even years in the future. I don't remember which of these famous authors,

Anonymous or Unknown said this, but one of them said, "Being alone is sitting under a tree for an afternoon and reading a book and enjoying every single minute of it. Being alone is doing things by yourself, but also doing them for yourself."

Being alone can be one of the most incredible experiences of your life. As we get older, we realize we are never alone. God always knows where we are, and He is always with us.

Enjoy the time you and your child have together - you are the BIGGEST influence in your child's life.

You gave your child a gift by enrolling them in preschool. They will be given so many opportunities that you might not be able to provide for them at home. Socialization, learning to share, waiting their turn and problem solving, to name just a few.

But your child still NEEDS you. They need your attention, they need your guidance, they need you to help foster their sense of self. We all have busy lives-cleaning, grocery shopping, phone calls, texts. It's important to set aside even 15 minutes a day where it is just YOU and YOUR child - phone and all other distractions set aside. Following is a list of engaging games and activities to do with your child:

- Board game - favorites include Candyland, Zingo, Old Macdonald Had a Farm just to name a few.
- Card game - Go Fish, Old Maid, Uno, War.
- Play with playdough side by side.
There are great homemade recipes online.
- Create something with Legos, Bristle Blocks, Lincoln Logs.
- Play games on the go such as I Spy, I'm Thinking of an Animal, Opposites, Rhyming. These are great things to do when you are fixing dinner or driving.
- Paint or draw together.
- And READ BOOKS TOGETHER. Engage your child by asking questions, making connections, talk about how they might change something about the story.

Upcoming Events

B'nei Mitzvah Seminars

We will hold the first of three required 6th grade parent/student B'nei Mitzvah Seminars on Sunday, October 21, 10:00-11:30 am. Tikkun Olam (Repairing the World) will be the morning's topic, and guest speakers Beatrice Fine (Coordinator of the B'nei Tzedek Shuk) and Taly Friedman (Jewish Family Services) will help to prepare the class for their service project.

All B'nei Mitzvah students (PRS & HBHA) are required to complete 18 hours of community service fulfillment of this mitzvah which is a fundamental Jewish principle. A student's completion of this task encourages a feeling of commitment in his/her new role as a thoughtful, responsible member of the Jewish community.

For more information, or to RSVP, contact Becca Levine at 913-647-7282.

Mt. Carmel Volunteer Day

Please join us Sunday, November 4, 12:00-2:00 pm to paint, clean, weed, rake and more at Mt. Carmel Cemetery, 5529 Ditzler Road. We will spend the day beautifying the cemetery and this would be an excellent opportunity for those looking to perform community service.

In case of inclement weather, the rain date will be Sunday, November 11. For more information or to sign up, contact Bruce Luchen at 913-220-7518 or bluchen0731@gmail.com.

Peltzman Classes

As you may have noticed during the past few weeks, there have been new and exciting changes taking place around Congregation Beth Shalom. There has been an important arrival, but it isn't space, nails, or carpets.

The Sarah Peltzman Educational Series has arrived. For years the "Peltzman Classes" have provided education for adult learning. For the past year, Rabbi Glickman and members of the Sisterhood have created a new learning format for Adult Education at Beth Shalom. The new Peltzman experience will meet on selected Thursday mornings from 10:00-11:30 am.

Instead of reading books or articles and then coming to class for discussion and group learning, the new Educational Series provides us with short (four weeks) educational units. During the next academic year there will be three educational units. Each unit will be followed by one session with a guest speaker.

We also have a break in the cost for these learning experiences. Each unit and guest speaker will cost $15.00, but only $36.00 will pay for all three units and the three guest speakers. Couples who choose to study the three units together will pay only $40.00. The Educational Series is open to the entire community and not limited to Beth Shalom members.

We had a free, introductory session, October 4 for those that were interested in the new series. If you are still interested in attending, please contact the office at 913-647-7279.

Rabbi Glickman will teach us about "Incredible Women in the Jewish Tradition". The guest speaker following those four sessions will be Martha Gershun, author of Care and Custody (helping us to focus on children in care of the judicial system).

Hazzan Ben-Yehuda will introduce us to "Stories We Never Learned in Hebrew School". Peter Newman will be the guest speaker for that unit; he will talk about his experiences during the Holocaust.

Alan Edelman will help us understand "Israel at 70; Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow". The guest speaker for this educational unit will be Suzanne Lange who will tell us about "Israel at 18" and her experiences as a volunteer on a kibbutz during that time.

To register for any or all of the new educational series, send your check for your choice of units to Congregation Beth Shalom Sisterhood-Peltzman. For more information contact Suzanne Lange 785-841-0919 or suzvick@yahoo.com.

House of Spies: Book of the Month

Sisterhood Book Club met on Wednesday, October 10 at 7:00 pm at the home of Tina Chapman. The club discussed House of Spies by Daniel Silva.

"Four months after the deadliest attack on the American homeland since 9/11, a terrorist plot leaves a trail of carnage through London's glittering West End. The attack is a brilliant feat of planning and secrecy but with one loose thread. The thread leads Gabriel Allon and his team to the south of France and to the gilded doorstep of one of the richest men in the country, and his beautiful companion. Together, under Gabriel's skilled hand, they will become an unlikely pair of heroes in the global war on terrorism."

For more details or to attend, contact Linda Lessner at 913-897-0122 or at llessner@kc.rr.com.

Sisterhood is for ALL AGES

Sisterhood invites the young and young at heart, ages 20-50, to enjoy programming directed to your common interests. Programs to entertain and educate, while making new friends and having fun together.

Call or email Rickie Haith if you would like to be contacted: 913-341-8707, RickieH1@aol.com.

Fit to a 'T'

The Thursday, October 25 program, "Fit to a T," will be facilitated by Dr. Kim Templeton, 1-2 pm in the MAC Room of the Jewish Community Campus. The program is designed for both men and women focusing on fracture prevention and osteoporosis. Participants will learn about the prevention, early detection, diagnosis, and treatment of osteoporosis. The "T" in the title represents a T-score, the measure of a person's bone density and susceptibility to fracture. Weak bones can affect individuals of all ages. Knowing what a T-score is and what "bone health" means are important first steps.

Dr. Templeton is Professor of Orthopedic Surgery at the University of Kansas Health System in Kansas City. She is past president of the U.S. Bone and Joint Initiative. Dr. Templeton will share her expertise on common bone and joint problems to improve prevention and early treatment.

Kristallnacht Commemoration

Kristallnacht

This year's community-wide Kristallnacht commemoration will feature a panel of German and Austrian survivors who personally witnessed the events of the 1930s. The speakers will each share personal recollections of their childhoods including memories of early persecution, Kristallnacht, the Kindertransports and emigration. The panelists include Esther Bergh, Tom Lewinsohn, Peter Newman, and Erwin Stern.

Parashat HaShavua For more information, contact Svetlana Sorkin at 913-393-1715 or saraliorasedu@hotmail.com.

Parashat HaShavua is an ongoing, monthly program taking place every third Shabbat of the month at 9:00 am in the conference room. The goal of this program is to engage its participants in a stimulating discussion of the weekly torah portion in a friendly atmosphere, where the difference of opinions is respected and questions are encouraged.

The next session will take place on October 20, when PARASHAT DEVARIM will be discussed. An informal atmosphere and deep level of discussion are the trademarks of this gathering. No prior experience is required, and everybody is welcome to join.
