

Congregation Beth Shalom Education Offerings

"Where Jewish education is neglected, the whole content of Judaism is reduced to merely an awareness of anti-Semitism. Judaism ceases then to be a civilization, and becomes a complex."
- Rabbi Mordechai Kaplan

Learning in Leawood

Bereshit I: The first 20 Generations
Wednesday Evenings, 7:30-9:00 pm,
at a home in Leawood beginning November 5th.

Rabbi Glickman will be teaching this 10 session class in collaboracurriculum is an in-depth text study written by scholars from Hebrew University in Jerusalem. The themes of family and faith, honor and dishonor, passion and power provide a rich exploration of our people and ourselves. No Hebrew knowledge necessary. Space is limited, and there are limited scholarships available. To register, please contact Rabbi Doug Alpert at rabbidougalert@gmail.com. Cost: $190.

Downtown Talmud Jam

Rabbi Glickman will be teaching an engaging and interactive Talmud class (no Hebrew required) once a month at a location near downtown Kansas City. Class begins on Wednesday, November 12, and the first class will be held at the offices of Lathrop and Gage. Many professionals come to learn on their lunch break.

Parashat Hashavua

Parashat Hashavua is an ongoing, monthly program that takes place on every third Shabbat of the month, 9:00-10:00 am, in the Conference Room. The goal of this program is to engage its participants in a stimulating discus-

No prior experience is required, and everybody is welcome to join. The next session will take place on November 15, to discuss Parashat Chayei Sara from the Book of Genesis.

From the Rabbi's Study

The Difference between 1933 and Now

I try not to focus my Jewish identity or vision on reacting to anti-Semitism. Rather, I usually think that the greatest weapon against anti-Semitism is not anti-anti-Semitism, but Pro-Semitism (Jewishly positive education and engagement).

However, it is impossible to ignore the rise of anti-Semitism both in Europe and in America. A couple of the most obvious examples are the violence in Paris this summer, the vocally anti-Semitic protests in Germany, and the anti-Semitic graffiti on campuses over the past High Holidays. Additionally, if you scratch beneath the surface of the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions Movement, you will see a cacophony of anti-Semitic tropes.

It is easy to see the rise of European anti-Semitism, in particular, as déjà vu. However, there are two fundamentally different realities that exist today that did not in 1933. I spoke about both of them on the High Holidays. The first is the fundamental importance of the State of Israel, and the second is the unprecedented positive relationships that exist in America between the Jewish community and our neighbors.

Over four hundred Jews from Paris made Aliyah to Israel this summer. It is impossible to minimize the importance of the role the State of Israel plays as being a safe haven to any Jew from any nation. Also, we have seen officials in every community both in America and abroad loudly condemn and counter any anti-Semitic acts that occur.

These two differences represent a marked difference between the world now and the world seventy years ago. However, we must remain vigilant against anti-Semitism, because we are the world's guard for this unique hatred.

Our Strategic Plan Creates a Kehillah

Like many organizations, CBS has a strategic plan. Unlike many organizations, however, our strategic plan is actually governing our actions and programs and drives our budget.

Members of our congregation want meaningful experiences of prayer and spirituality, congregational learning, and a sense of community - fulfilling these three goals is our strategic plan.

I've become energized by how many opportunities we have created for ourselves to connect with our shul, how many "doorways" we have into our sacred community, our kehillah, Congregation Beth Shalom.

Some congregants engage in prayer and spirituality at Kabbalat Shabbat services on Friday nights, while many come to the main sanctuary service on Shabbat morning, and others choose the Library Minyan. Tot Shabbat comes together once a month, as does a new community of families of Tot Shabbat "graduates" called Shabbat Kids Club. Every morning and evening we have a minyan at Village Shalom during the week. The White Theater was filled with worshippers on Rosh HaShanah, and so was the Social Hall - two different approaches to our most sacred experiences.

We offer multiple opportunities for congregational learning, many of which are targeted to specific age groups. Dozens of families participate in Beth Shalom's Rose Family Early Childhood Education program, as well as the Polsky Religious School, and USY. Downtown Talmud Jam is a regular community, as is the Rabbi's Sisterhood Peltzman class for adult education, and Shabbat Minchah "Locavort" meets each week to learn with Rabbi Glickman.

Sisterhood is our oldest community, while Boy Scout Troop 61 is our second oldest. Men's Club is active and fun again. Steppin' Out is for congregants of a certain age, and Kiddush Corps includes all ages. And more - these are how we create a sense of community for ourselves.

As we transition into 5775, let's reflect on what we value. Where do we experience meaningful prayer and spirituality? Where do we benefit from Jewish learning? In which community of our kehillah, do we participate? Which doorway brings us into our sacred community, the kehillah we are proud to call Beth Shalom?

Torah Fund

Please join Sisterhood on Shabbat morning, November 15, when we celebrate the 72nd year of Torah Fund, Women's league for Conservative Judaism's campaign which supports our four institutions of higher learning. Several long-time and significant donors, as well as newer donors, will have aliyot and other honors. We will have the opportunity to hear more about how Torah Fund has impacted the education of our Rebbitzin, Annie Glickman.

Contributions to Sisterhood's annual Torah Fund Campaign have been used for the egalitarian synagogue at JTS in New York, residence halls at American Jewish University in Los Angeles, the rebuilding of the JTS Library which was heavily damaged by fire, subsidies for rabbinic and cantorial students studying in Israel, and scholarships for students in all programs. For more information or to make a donation, please contact Gloria Sher, gloriasher1205@gmail.com or 913-499-8260.

Coming in January

Banishing Bullying Behavior

Current and student teachers are shown participating in a two-day summer graduate level course at the University of St. Mary. Developed and led by Sisterhood Banishing Bullying Behavior trainers, this course focused on "teaching the teachers". That is one of the continuing goals of the BBB project for the coming year.

To create new venues, volunteers are needed to call from home. New presenters are continually being trained. To volunteer, contact Carol Yarmo at 913-642-1199 or carolyarmo@kc.rr.com.

Join Us at the Movies Wednesday, December 24

What are you doing on Christmas Eve? How about attending a first run movie at sisterhood's second annual "A Nite at the Movies"? The place to be is at the Palazzo 16 Theatre in Overland Park. Join us with your family and friends for an entertaining and enjoyable evening in our own private theater with popcorn and soft drinks. You might get lucky and win a fabulous door prize. The proceeds will benefit Sisterhood's synagogue, community service and education projects. Watch for more exciting details.

Sisterhood Book Club Meets Wednesday, December 10

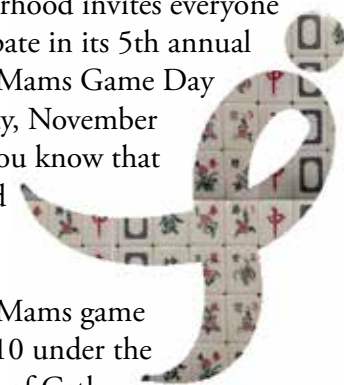

Book Club will meet Wednesday, December 10 at 1:30 pm, at Sue Vile's home. (Note: afternoon time because of winter.)

The book to be discussed is "I Am Forbidden" by Anouk Markovits. Her first novel in English focuses on two Hasidic sisters: one who leaves the Satmar Sect, and one who stays, turning away from modernity. For further details or to be added to the e-mail list, contact Rowena Turk at 913-649-7098 or at turk@kc.rr.com.

Bams for Mams, November 18

Sisterhood invites everyone to participate in its 5th annual Bams for Mams Game Day on Tuesday, November 18. Did you know that Sisterhood began its annual Bams for Mams game day in 2010 under the leadership of Cathy Newman and Stephanie Kavanaugh?

A delicious brunch for $10 begins the day at 10:30 am, and game time is at 11:00 am in Goldsmith Hall. Grab your Mah Jongg group and play for the cure. Single players are welcome.

A minimum donation of $15 to the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation gets you into the game. For more information contact Co-chairs Dini Freed (913) 469-0021 or Judy Weinstein (913) 431-3331.

Curriculum Update

Shalom! Now that the holidays are a distant memory, we are hard at work at PRS. The Etgar Curriculum is being used in third and fourth grades and in fifth and sixth grades to look carefully at the Hebrew calendar and at our sacred texts. In the seventh grades, students are pursuing their studies of the life cycle and the Holocaust and values within both. In all grades, third through seventh, students continue to work on their Hebrew reading skills and have begun to work on their davening (prayer-leading) skills.

I want to dedicate a few lines to a crisis in our community and ask your help to remedy this crisis. The Food Pantry at the JCC is short tens of thousands of pounds of food for this time of year. They desperately need canned goods; soups, tuna, fruits and vegetables. There is also a need for boxed macaroni, peanut butter, boxes of rice and cereal. Please consider sending food with your child to Hebrew School and at the end of each week, we will bring what we have collected to the JCC. Thank you so much for your generosity.

"Friday Night Lights" on November 21 will be hosted by the PreK students. Parents, siblings, grandparents, and special people are all invited to join. Troop 61 Gives Back Generously!

Eli Kahn just built the most amazing loft for storage in the Pre-school bike shed. The loft was built for his Eagle Scout project. Troop 61 Scouts and parents helped make the loft a reality. We have needed this extra storage since we moved into this building. This will truly benefit the preschool!

Ben Simon built great benches and a storage unit outside the Youth Lounge and Jacob Flekier added picnic tables to the area. Many, many people are truly enjoying the benches and picnic tables on nice days.

It is so wonderful that the Scouts are learning about community service and commitment. There are other examples of the Scout's Eagle Projects all around our congregation.

Editorial Comments

The Beth Shalom building at 95th and Wornall was demolished a number of weeks ago. I am still hearing laments and comments about how much better the past was. Recently, I was skimming the Beth Shalom Diamond Book celebrating our 75th anniversary, and I learned that life at Beth Shalom has not always been smooth or wonderful. In the past we have had major problems and overcome them through the efforts of both our congregants and clergy. Our congregation is wherever we come together to worship, to learn, to socialize, to meet. The past is the past. The future is ours to embrace and make whatever we want it to be.

Potato Kugel by Karen Berger

Line a bowl with cheesecloth. Peel, chop and process 4 Idaho potatoes (or grate) the potatoes and place in cheesecloth. Squeeze the water out of the potatoes. Discard water.

Add:

3 Eggs

¼ C Matzah meal or Panko Bread

Crumbs

½ t Baking powder

1T Chicken soup mix

¼ C Oil

Pepper

Salt (at end because it turns the potatoes brown)

Bake in an 8 inch or brownie size glass dish at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until brown around edges. Enjoy!
