Birthdays are Days of Celebration – and Reflection

Passover doesn't need to be the only Jewish holiday of questions and stories. Let this 70th birthday be not only one of celebration – but also one of reflection. Let it be a day where we not only look up to Israel or look down at Israel, let it also be a day where we look inward at ourselves as well. Let us recognize that this significant birthday also affects us.

This month marks a big birthday for the State of Israel. From Wednesday night, April 18th to sunset on Thursday night, April 19th, Jews around the world will celebrate Yom HaAtzmaut. This day marks 70 years since David Ben-Gurion read aloud the Declaration of the State of Israel and Kansas City's own President Truman recognized the Jewish State.

Pirkei Avot teaches that “At age 70, a person reaches the age of a hoary head.” A hoary head is an archaic way of saying a grey-haired head of wisdom. Though 70 is young for a country – for the beginning of a radically renewed nation-state like Israel, it is not so young. After all, the Soviet Union only lasted 69 years. Czechoslovakia only lasted for 75 years. It was fifty years from the time that Herzl saw the Dreyfus trial until Ben-Gurion announced the State.

Jews in Israel and around the world are missing an opportunity if we look at Yom HaAtzmaut as only a party. If we only see it as a time to play old Israeli folk tunes and eat falafel together we are missing the chance to ask ourselves the big questions about Jewish sovereignty.

In some Jewish communities, it is customary on one's birthday to learn the passage from Genesis where God asks Adam: “Where are you?” On Israel's 70th Birthday, we are missing an opportunity if we don't ask ourselves some big questions about where we are on this birthday.

Here are a few to start with:

We can ask ourselves how can the technological and scientific innovations that Israel is making improve the rest of the world?

We can ask ourselves: when we have been praying for a return to Israel for 2,000 years – what does it mean that non-Orthodox Jews have never embraced Aliyah?

We can ask ourselves: how will our Jewish identity here in America change when the majority of Jews in the world will soon be in Israel?

We can ask ourselves: what am I doing positively to help Israel reach its greatest potential of being Jewish and democratic, reflecting the best of both sets of values?

We can ask ourselves: how do I teach my children the story of Israel in the way that their generation can hear it?

We can ask ourselves: how can we stay as one Jewish people despite our fissures and real and meaningful differences?

We can ask ourselves: how many resources do we dedicate to keeping alive the Jewish State, and how many resources do we dedicate to educating Jewishly here?

Passover doesn't need to be the only Jewish holiday of questions and stories. Let this 70th birthday be not only one of celebration – but also one of reflection. Let it be a day where we not only look up to Israel or look down at Israel, let it also be a day where we look inward at ourselves as well. Let us recognize that this significant birthday also affects us.

Life Lessons:

Another Life Lesson? Why do I write these blogs? Shouldn't everything in the Scroll relate solely to synagogue life or Jewish holidays? Do these blogs have a place in our monthly Scroll? I believe they do. Each of us does what we can to support our Congregation. I write these blogs to share lessons learned throughout my life. If my articles touch the life of even one person or family, I have accomplished what I set out to do, to help each member of my Congregational family in any way I can.

Life Lesson 7: Ready, Fire, Aim

Time can be our most valuable asset; time can be our most costly liability. In the words of American humorist Art Buchwald, "Whether it's the best of times or the worst of times, it's the only time we've got".

Setting priorities and taking the time to prepare for the tasks ahead will minimize the possibility of needing to redo our work. As Benjamin Franklin said, "By failing to prepare, you are preparing to fail."

Many people think, "Why measure twice and cut once? People will say, "We don't have time for planning. We need to get it done!"

We should all heed the words of legendary UCLA basketball coach John Wooden, "If you don't have time to do it right, when will you have time to do it over?"

"Time is what we want most, but what we use worst" (William Penn). People talk about time management; I know because I am one of those people. In reality, we can't really "manage time", but we can maximize the use of the time we have. Author and motivational speaker John C. Maxwell said it best, "Time management is an oxymoron. Time is beyond our control, and the clock keeps ticking regardless of how we lead our lives. Priority management is the answer to maximizing the time we have".

Setting our priorities and taking time to prepare are not a waste of time. They are life's way of minimizing the possibility of our time being wasted. Even God takes the time to prepare. Remember, it wasn't raining when He asked Noah to build the ark.

Passover Reflections

by HAZZAN TAHL BEN-YEHUDA

hazzantby@bethshalomkc.org

Pesach is not only the time for dusting off our grandmother's china and the best of the family holiday recipes. It is not only the time to review the mah nishtanah and choose which haggadah you'll use for your seder. Pesach is a time for reflection about the relationships in our lives; at the very first Pesach, we as a people made a promise to ourselves and to each other as a community to stand together and enter into a relationship with none other than God.

We took a proverbial leap into the unknown when we smeared the blood of the Passover sacrifice on the inside of our doorposts that last night in Egypt. While we huddled in our homes that night, looking at the blood, hearing the losses of our Egyptian neighbors as the angel of death passed over our own homes, we began to understand the power of our decision. We would live – and we would be under the protection of the one and only God.

As we traveled with God throughout the wilderness, we came to know ourselves and God better. We made mistakes. We strayed. We returned to God. We fought amongst ourselves, and we also made up. Ultimately, the story of our relationship is one of wonder, of knowledge, of trust and of growth. It all began, though, with the leap that each one of us took when we chose to leave Egypt – when we chose to leave the familiar.

May we each recognize our enslavement, and may we have the strength to make the leap into the unknown that will deepen our connection to each other, and perhaps, even to God.

Exciting Upcoming Events

by RICHARD SIMON

I'm writing this article in anticipation of Passover, but I want to first reflect on the great Purim celebration. My ears are still ringing from the great performance by the Kansas City Marching Cobras. We had a great crowd! The event was well attended by our Congregants and there were many folks from the community, which just speaks to our great appeal. We enjoyed the Megillah reading with all our excellent readers, and had tailgate food and drinks that added to the excitement of the evening. I had a great time working the bar with several other bartenders, as it provided me the ability to say hello to so many of the folks who attended. We are certainly building upon the success of last year's event at Tom's Town, and I can't wait for next year's Purim celebration. I want to thank the Rabbi for his vision in continuing to revitalize Purim.

I'm certainly looking forward to Passover, but I also look forward to our Confirmation and Consecration service that will be held on April 14th. This is a great event as we acknowledge the young adults that have completed their "formal" Jewish studies, while at the same time, welcoming in the Kindergarteners who are just starting. Seeing our youth participate in the service reminds me of one of our main purposes here at Congregation Beth Shalom.

I am looking forward to Spring and the warm weather, and I can't believe that my 2-year term will be over in June; it sure has gone fast. I want to thank everyone for their support, and I am truly humbled by this experience.

Making Passover Memories

by JUDY JACKS BERMAN

Director

jjb@bethshalomkc.org | 913-647-7287

Passover is such a wonderful family holiday that creates memories of being at the Seder table. What would you like your children's or grandchildren's memories to be?

Here are some ideas for making your Seders full of wonderful memories.

Take time to tell your story to your children about your memories of Seders, and if there are multiple generations, let everyone share their best Passover memories!

Let your children help prepare the food and table settings. If they are at the Beth Shalom Rose Family ECEC, they have made many treasures to embellish your table and they will be so proud to have their creations on display! Encourage your child to lead the Passover songs they have learned! Think about props you can bring in for the story. The Sisterhood Gift Shop as well as US TOY Constructive Playthings have plague bags and other props you can pull in to make the holiday fun.

You can even buy molds online and melt chocolate chips to make chocolate frogs to use during the song "Frogs here, frogs there, frogs were jumping everywhere!!"

Let your child do as much as they can of the Four Questions! Find a skit online for the answers to the four questions instead of just reading the haggadah. Go around the room and have everyone say what they hope for in the coming year, even little ones have ideas to share!

I hope you and your family have a happy, healthy, wonderful Pesach filled with joy, laughter, great family time and wonderful memories!

High School Grads to Be Honored at Baccalaureate Dinner

The Beth Shalom Congregational family is invited to join us at 6:00 pm, on Friday evening, May 4, for services to celebrate the achievements of our 2018 graduating high school seniors and their families. Following services and dinner, Rabbi Neal Schuster from KU Hillel will be our special guest speaker. A complimentary dinner for the graduates and a special gift from the Harvey Bodker family in memory of Beverly Bodker will be presented during the evening.

Co-chairs for the evening are Renana Abrams, Jen Paul, Carol Porter and Janet Unterhalter. For more information on the evening, contact the synagogue at 913-647-7279 or one of the co-chairs.

Sisterhood Calendar Campaign

Berenice Haberman and Bev Newman, Calendar Co-chairs, announce that Sisterhood has launched its 2018-19/5779 Congregational Calendar Campaign of selling listings, tributes and ads to its congregants and advertisers in the Kansas City metropolitan area. The calendar is Sisterhood's major fundraising project, and its proceeds support both congregation and Sisterhood programming. The calendar/directory is complimentary to all Beth Shalom congregants, non-congregant Sisterhood members and advertisers.

Over the years, the calendar has been a valuable advertising vehicle for many area businesses. We welcome all congregational business leaders to consider this tool in their promotional planning for the coming year. It is a great value and opportunity to advertise one's business every day for 16 months. Our professional designer can create your ad and accommodate you in any way to meet your advertising budget. Full page ads are also available in color for a minimal extra charge.

For further information contact Berenice Haberman, 913-894-6657 or bshaberman521@gmail.com. Ad forms are available on the Beth Shalom website, <http://bethshalomkc.org>. Please complete your ad form and return it with your check payable to Beth Shalom Sisterhood by April 3.

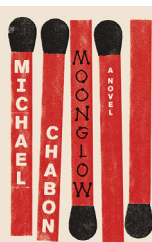

Spring Installation Luncheon

Beth Shalom Sisterhood's May 15 Spring Installation luncheon will feature an Interfaith program provided by Sheila Sonnenschein. Sheila will have people of different religions speaking on Spirituality and Customs. Panelists will be of the Buddhist, Hindu and Sikh faiths.

Sheila was past president of the Interfaith Council and is still very active. She is greatly respected for her work and arranges many programs throughout the city. Dini Freed will be luncheon chairman. Invitations will follow. Any questions, call; Ellen Soltz, 816-217-6981.

Sisterhood Book Club Meets April 25

Sisterhood Book Club will meet on Wednesday, April 25 at 1:30 pm at the JCC in the large boardroom on the main floor. The club will be discussing "Moonglow" by Michael Chabon.

The Beth Shalom Sisterhood Nominating Committee has nominated the following women to be nominated for a three-year term on the Board of Directors: Teri Herman, Donna Katz, Joyce Shapiro, Nata Scharf and Dini Freed. Amy Schultz for a two-year term and for a one-year term Meg Adler, Linda Bell, Sylvie Radvinsky.

APRIL Announcements

Planned Givers' Kiddush, April 29th

Fifty-three congregants who generously made planned gifts to our congregation will be honored on Shabbat morning, May 12th, with a special Kiddush in their honor. While we may not be able to predict the future, we, as members of Congregation Beth Shalom, can help secure it financially with a planned gift to our synagogue. We are currently processing our Fifty-fourth Legacy gift. Since 2007, CBS has partnered with the Jewish Community Foundation and the Bushman Community Endowment program to secure these commitments, currently valued in excess of $3 million dollars. Todah rabah to the families who have helped us to reach the objective of securing our future, and we look forward to continuous growth in the number of families willing to assist us. Help us celebrate these congregants and their commitment to CBS. If you would like to invest in the future of CBS with a bequest or other planned gift, please contact Marc Hammer, Creating a Jewish Legacy Committee Chair, Mobile 913-707-3566, or Office 913-234-0311, Email Address: mhammer@financialguide.com.

Parashat HaShavua For more information, contact Svetlana Sorkin at 913-393-1715 or saraliorasedu@hotmail.com.

Parashat HaShavua is an ongoing, monthly program taking place every third Shabbat of the month at 9:00 am in the conference room. The goal of this program is to engage its participants in a stimulating discussion of the weekly torah portion in a friendly atmosphere, where the difference of opinions is respected and questions are encouraged.

The next session will take place on April 21, when PARASHAT TAZRIA-METZORA will be discussed. An informal atmosphere and deep level of discussion are the trademarks of this gathering. No prior experience is required, and everybody is welcome to join.
