A Theme for Seder: Passover

It is not uncommon to have themed seders. After all, can't the same story and the same words get boring and tired after a while?

There is a reason, however, why we repeat the same words and the same story over and over again. It is not for the purpose of boredom, or simple repetition - it is because there are eternal truths in the Passover story that constantly demand our attention. Many of these themes - such as redemption from bondage - synthesize well with genuine social ills that still plague our society.

It is easy, though, to create a Seder of "slacktivism" instead of a Seder of meaning. "Slacktivism" is a term that I learned about during the ALS ice-bucket challenge from last summer. It is the tendency to "click" a website, "like" a Facebook page, or "retweet" a #hashtag in order to raise awareness - without really creating the transformation one desires to see in the world.

Todah Rabah Paul Flam Family

Paul Flam's, z"l, memory will be honored at Yizkor Services on Shabbat, April 11. He endowed our congregation with a very generous donation. Members of Paul's family will be in attendance at Shabbat services.

Rimon Celebration

The text of the seder - if tasted, explored and digested as thoroughly as the festive meal - can be the fuel that propels us into a life of meaning, as well as a life of true action. The action, though, takes place after the seder. The seder provides us the spiritual fuel to act in the world.

There was a sign in my favorite synagogue in Jerusalem that read in Hebrew and English: "If you are talking here - where do you pray?" To align that question with the seder: "If you are only discussing today's problems at Seder - where do you discuss being on a spiritual journey, and being on a personal and national exodus from slavery to freedom?"

Seder is the one time of the year where as a family and community, we get to ask ourselves the hardest existential questions in an intimate setting around a table.

The question in the Torah that is the basis for the questions of the Four Sons is Mah Ha-Avodah Ha-zot Lachem - "What is this worship to you?" What is the bondage we need to leave to discover true "avodah" - worship; and where do we need to point ourselves on our spiritual journeys to be heading there?

Executively Speaking

You Are Invited to Share Your Story

Most of us are familiar with the old adage: The Jewish people are known as "the people of the book".

Basically, this refers to the fact that every single Jew is commanded to know the Torah. The study and knowledge of Torah was commanded to us through Moses, and it is the rightful inheritance of every one of us.

But, it's about more... many of us have an innate love of reading. We love to hear about and share each other's stories. Our stories are a major part of our DNA.

Our life stories, sad and joyful, challenging and hopeful, have helped to shape us into the Jewish people that we are today.

I have recently written the story of my grandson's birth from utero through his first year of life. I recounted through photos and memories his birth story; I called it "The Cory Story". It was heartfelt and poignant, written with love. Someday he can look back to see where his life began. Cory's Jewish journey is just beginning; his book has many pages waiting to be filled as he grows.

Many of us have a story to tell, chapters in our lives that can fill volumes. So after speaking with Bev Newman, our Scroll editor, we decided that it would be great to have a new column each month that tells your story.

Your story can be an exploration of your heritage. It can be about an experience in your life that shaped your Jewish identity. It can be about someone who inspired you to be a better person. It can be the story of a loved one present or passed.

Send your 250 word story to Bev Newman; at taxwife@aol.com. CBS reserves the right to edit contents. You can inspire others by your words, so please share your story with us. From my home to yours,
Happy Passover.

Create Your Jewish Legacy

"We did not find this world desolate when we entered it. As our ancestors planted for us before we were born, so do we plant for those who will come after us:" Ta'anit 23a

On Shabbat morning, April 18, we will be recognizing members of our congregational family who are planting for the future by making a bequest or other planned gift to Beth Shalom.

Join us in saying thank you and celebrating their generosity at a special Kiddush luncheon in which a Beth Shalom couple is coming out of retirement to prepare the feast in conjunction with the Kiddush

Corps to honor our planned givers. Consider making your own gift, as well. No matter what your financial means, you can help ensure a bright and dynamic future for Beth Shalom by:

- Making a gift today of cash or long-term appreciated securities
- Making a gift today that will pay you income
- Making a bequest in your will or trust
- Naming Beth Shalom as a beneficiary of a life insurance policy or retirement plan

Beth Shalom is a very special place with a long and beautiful history. It is where you have been educated, lived your Jewish values, developed life-long friendships, made fond memories, and where you have turned for strength, support and celebration. Your planned gift today can help ensure Beth Shalom for tomorrow.

For more information, contact Harold Kaseff, Chair, Beth Shalom's Planned Giving Committee at Harold.k@mymetrotitle.com or 913-859-0530.

Banishing Bullying Behavior

Carol Yarmo is completing three outstanding terms as Sisterhood Community Service Vice-President. During her tenure she organized and led our Banishing Bully Behavior Project that reached both the Jewish community and the general community. Participants' presentations ranged from early childhood to college level through senior citizens under Carol's passionate leadership.

Bev Newman, Sisterhood President, has appointed Blanche Sosland to succeed Carol as chair of the project. In accepting the chairmanship Sosland said, "Unfortunately, the need for the BBB Project is greater today than ever. We recognize that bullying goes far beyond the school-yard. Fifty percent of the students who bully at school are bullied at home by either parents or siblings.

Between ten and twenty percent of senior citizens are bullied in retirement communities or in their own homes. We must continue our work with everyone in both the Jewish and general communities. Although this is a sisterhood project, we welcome all congregants to join us in banishing bullying behavior." Blanche can be reached at 913-488-1116 or blanche@soslandphoto.com.

Changing With the Times

Today when children enter Kindergarten, basic expectations are much greater than they were in the past. Our children need to know more and be prepared to learn academic skills that 10 years ago were taught in first grade. In response to this change, we raised the bar for our PreK students by extending our hours and introducing a new curriculum.

Our typical day goes from 9:00 am to 1:30 pm Monday through Thursday – and to 12:00 pm on Fridays – so we have time for the new Pre K curriculum without having to give up our important play, art and Judaic activities. Our new curriculum includes Everyday Math, The Lakeshore Science program and Handwriting Without Tears. For literacy, we are part of a pilot program that is being released by Children's Mercy Speech and Language Department called "Rhyming to Read." This program was co-written by our congregant, Cindy Daniels. All teaching is taught in a hands-on, concrete learning environment.

As an example of our "hands-on" learning environment, RFECEC students have been observed learning the "sh" sound by writing "sh" using shaving cream. They also learned "greater than" and "less than" using playing cards and dice.

Many of last year's Kindergarten parents told us that their children were well prepared for Kindergarten. In addition, I spoke to a local Kindergarten teacher last week who said our kids are great every year, but this year exceeded her expectations. We are thrilled with our new curriculum! We still have a few openings for fall 2015. Please call Judy Jacks Berman at 913-647-7287 for more information.

RFECEC Collects Food for Jewish Family Services Food Pantry

RFECEC is a Jewish value based preschool, we were given a perfect opportunity to learn about chesed, kindness and hazan et hakol, feeding everyone.

The preschool students and their families collected 385.6 pounds of food for the food bank. The children also decorated the grocery bags to make them a little more special. We intentionally had the children bring foods they like and explained they

A Myriad of Spring Holidays

We are now in the spring holiday season, and while you may think that our really intense holiday season is in the fall, there is a strong argument to be made for the spring being just as intense! Purim opens the thoughts of our freedom, about how we fight for it ourselves, and God's role in our past struggles for freedom as well as our modern struggles. Purim alerts us to the coming of Pesach, and Pesach is the bridge between the ancient redemption of our people from Egyptian slavery, and the modern redemption of the surviving fragment of European Jewry and the rebirth of the Jewish state. Pesach is immediately followed by Yom HaShoah, Yom HaZikaron and Yom HaAtzma'ut. We will host our own commemorations of Yom HaShoah and Yom HaZikaron / Yom HaAtzma'ut within our CBS community. Both commemorations fall on Wednesdays, when Hebrew School is in session, and we are inviting parents and anyone else who wishes to come join us. The Yom HaShoah program for all PRS students in grades 5 and up will take place at Village Shalom on April 15 from 5:30 to 6:00 pm and will dovetail into the Community Minchah Service at 6:00 pm that ends at about 6:20 pm. Yom HaZikaron transitions into Yom HaAtzma'ut on Wednesday evening, April 22. Our student body will have a special program at CBS from 5:30 to 6:15pm. Students of all grades as well as parents and grandparents are invited to attend. There will be special music, a video presentation and sweets to celebrate Israel's 67th birthday!

Summer Squash Soup

Ingredients:

2 cup vegetable broth
pinch cayenne pepper (optional)
¼ cup coconut milk (plus extra for topping)
1 tablespoon olive oil

2 cup summer squash

½ cup yellow onion

¼ cup carrot

¼ cup white wine

1 clove garlic

1 cup potatoes, diced into cubes

¼ teaspoon each: coriander, turmeric and paprika

⅛ teaspoon cumin, mustard powder, and cinnamon

Directions:

In a medium pot, heat olive oil over medium low heat. Add in garlic and onions, sautéing until onions begin to soften and garlic becomes fragrant. Add in squash, carrot, and potatoes - continuing to cook until squash and potatoes begin to soften, about five minutes. During this time, begin to add spices. Once vegetables begin to soften, add in white wine to deglaze the pan. Finally, pour in vegetable broth, bring to a boil, and reduce to a simmer. Let simmer until potatoes and squash are soft, 20-25 minutes. (taste a couple times during this to adjust spices to your liking)

Once potatoes are done, use an immersion blender or a regular blender to create a smooth texture in your soup. Return soup back to stove top, stir in coconut milk, and heat again until soup is hot. When ready to serve, place soup in a bowl, spoon 1 tablespoon of coconut milk onto top of soup, and sprinkle a little paprika on top of each.
